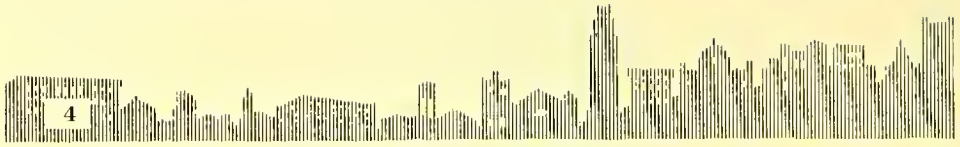
To Miss Mary Harrah, who has played no small part in moulding the future citizens of Fort Wayne, we respectfully dedicate this, the Caldron of 1935.

Nineteen thirty-five marks the twenty-fifth year of service at Central for Miss Harrah. Born in Green County, Southern Indiana, she taught her way through college, being graduated from the University of Indiana with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Latin. In 1910 she began her career at Central and since then has taught Latin to hundreds of pupils, many of whom themselves now teach. To Miss Harrah is owed the organization of high school girl reserves — a group in which she yet takes the keenest pride. Her civic interests include membership in the College Club and a directorsh.p of the Y.W.C.A.



Theme

THE theme of Central's year book for 1935 is "Modern Fort Wayne." A city of modern homes, more and more modern business building,s a modren and adequate water system and modren sanitary systems in the near future, improved streets, parks and playgrounds, also factories as modern as science can make them.

Not least are the modern schools, both grade and high, with fine auditoriums, gymnasiums and swimming pools.

The spirit of the theme is carried our in the decorations as typified in the vertical line throughout the book. In other words, modernism and uprightness are watchwords of of this, the 1935 CALDRON.

Classes

SENIOR HISTORY

HERE we are seniors. And it was such a short time ago that we timidly made our entrance into this beloved building.

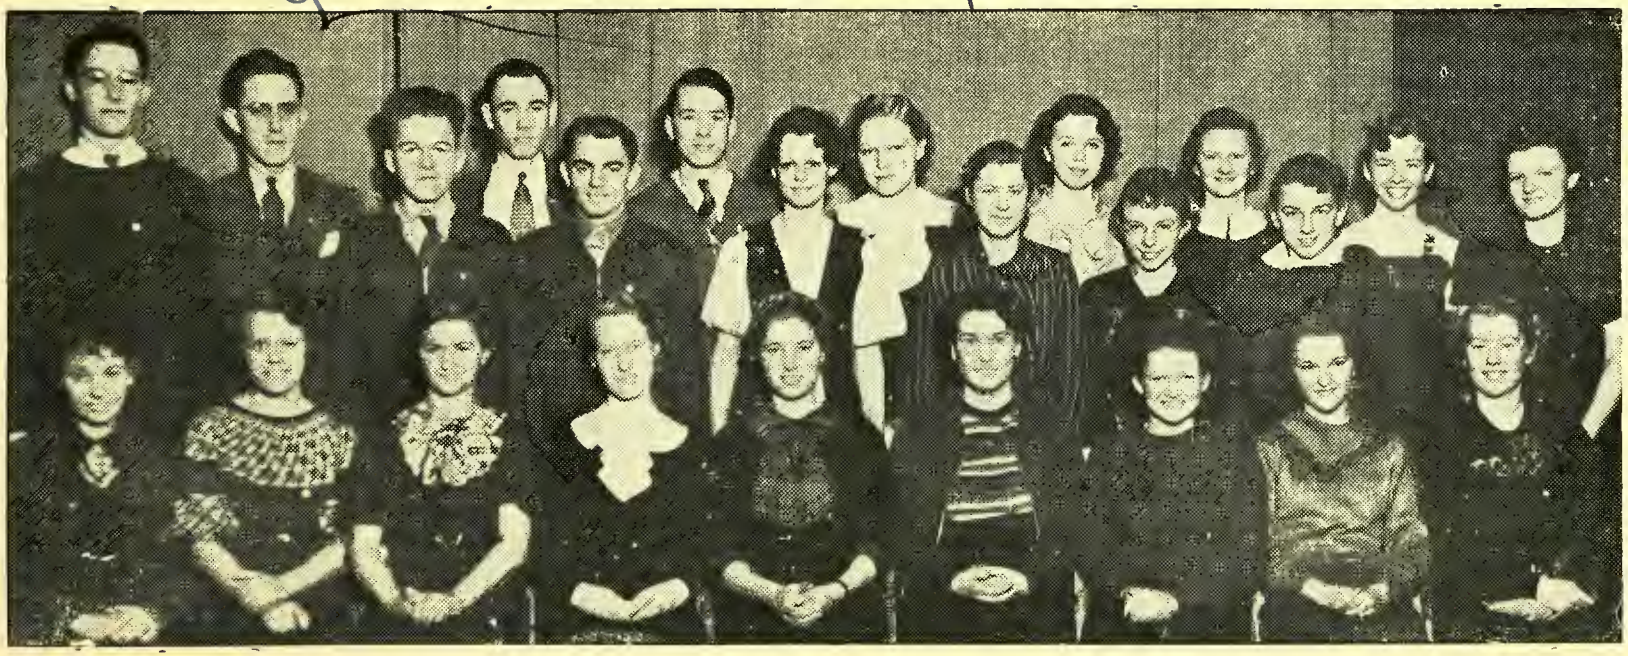
In the first of our four auspicious years, we selected as leader of this illustrious class, Tom Miller, aided by Richard Pierce as vice-president, Joe Deck as secretary-treasurer, and Charlotte Uebelhoer, Helen Palmer, Ruth Murphy, and Joan Wolf as the social council. The class wisely chose as advisers, Miss Adams and Mr. Aldred. The two momentous activities consisted of a gala freshman party, coupled with the "Freshman Frolic", staged on April Fool's Day.

The graduates of 1935, as sophomores, ordained Herman Deck, president, Alois Derry, vice-president, James Kipfer, secretary-treasurer, and Robert McAleece, Betty Jane Merchant, Joe Deck, and Margie Bittler, social council. Miss Nielsen and Mr. Reising as advisers, were important factors in helping to augment the financial status of the class by means of the "Sophomore Derby' and the "Big Ten" tea dance.

We bestowed upon Vincent Carlson the honor of presidency for our third year and with Alois Derry, vice president, Robert McAleece, secretary-treasurer, Charlotte Uebelhoer, Margie Bittler, Helen Palmer, Vera Rice, and James Kipfer, social council, and with the able advisers, Miss McKinnie aud Mr. Wyatt, carried our class through a most successful year. The "Jack Frost Hop" and the Junior Prom were the outstanding features, with, of course, the choosing of the prom queen, Virginia Bash

And at last, seniors. With Walter Byers as our leader, Herman Deck, vice-president, James Kipfer, secretary, and Alois Derry, Charlotte Uebelhoer, Winifred Mertz, Mary Aldred, Vincent Carlson, Dorothy Miller, Tom Miller, social council, we sponsored some noteworthy affairs.

In this final year our officers elected as worthy advisers, Miss Tonkel and Mr. Potterf. Our first event, the senior play, was a mystery, entitled "Number 17". This was succeeded by the Senior-Caldron Vod-vil, exhibited in February. As our class reluctantly departs from its alma mater, we're looking forward with some sadness and pleasure to the annual baccalaureate service, commencement ritual, the commencement dance, and the commencement exercises.



NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

On a basis of four qualifications: scholarship, leadership, character and service, twenty-four outstanding seniors were awarded the gold torch pin of the National Honor Society. The presentation featured four former members of the society, Dick Vogelsang, Mary Ellen Heit, Clara Mae Guy and Joe Tucker, each of whom spoke on one of the requirements for membership. Fred H. Croninger, principal, made the formal presentation.

SENIOR OFFICER MINIATURES

BYERS drawing cryptic diagrams of penthouse porches–Deck rolling his r's and presenting a masterful argument–Kipfer in rags and tatters fishing over the orchestra pit——Little knots of people arguing over Carlson's petitions; signing them, ignorant of the contents, swayed by his persuasive tongue——A tall dark haired girl saying grimly, "I'll bite him; that's what I'll do!" Winnie Mertz——Miller struggling desperately to bring order in Booster Meeting. "I'll put you guys matching pennies out in a minute." —— Miss Tonkel charting the Senior course —— Council arguing hotly over commencement invitations——Aldred weeping mournfully over the last basketball game——Mr. Wyatt being very calm about everything——Girls of the Council favoring Koerber's——Toddy Uebelhoer lisping, "Pleathe thir, my name ith Hetty Heffelfinger"——Blue and white pom-poms coming into being under the deft fingers of Dorothy Miller.

THE JUNIORS- Thus Far

The awe-inspiring doors of Central opened in 1932 to the now independent class of Juniors. The first activity which permanantly established them in the records of Central High School was the election of class officers. Those chosen to guide this class through the "trials and tribulations" of its first year were: president, Bruce Hunt; vice-president, Helen Doswell; and secretary - treasurer, Mildred Hawkins.

Then came the Freshman Party, held on February 16. There was dancing and later refreshments were served by freshman mothers.

And then they were sophomores. Ably headed by Helen Doswell, Ward Beers, and Mildred Hawkins, the class of '36 sailed smoothly through its second year at Central. Miss Emma Adams and Mr. John A. Reising were the faculty advisers of the class.

The "Reindeer Hop", which was held on Friday, December 23, was the only important event of that year and was a huge success.

Two years have passed and they find themselves juniors. The election of officers took place in the session room as usual. The class elected Ward Beers, president; Bruce Hunt, vice-president; Mildred Hawkins, secretary-treasurer; Miss Eva McKinnie and Meredith Aldred as class advisers.

In December, the members of this class tripped the light fantastic at the "Toyland Toddle" in the girl's gym. The Junior Prom, duly honoring the Seniors, brought the class activites to a grand climax in May.

The Second Lap

The sophomore year is always a rather quiet one in Central, when the class has passed through the bustle and excitement of being freshmen and before the members have entered upon the tempestuous seas of junior and senior duties. Therefore the activities of the class of '37 in 1934-35 are some what less than those of other classes.

The class election revealed the following choice of officers for the year: President, Jimmy Koegel; Vice-President, Jane Bash; Secretary, Paul Ream.

The social council includes Karl Pappert, Edith Reusch, Mary McAnlis, Donna Neu, and Elizabeth Lanier. As advisers the class chose Miss Zent and Mr. Ashley.

By way of social activities the class of '37 gave a George Washington Tea Dance.

Then came the first semester honor roll and on it were Geraldine Bacon, Anna Boehme, Jean Collins, Alfred Falk, Kathryn Goodwin, Emily Jagow, Elizabeth Lanier, Irving Latz, Marjory Logan, Mary McAnlis, Helen Mertz, Thomas Motter, Clara Rhodes, Ruth Seigel, Dorothy Staley, and Paul Schwehn.

Sophomore Sketches

MARY Mc ANLIS - Mary is a member of the social council and Booster Club as well as being an honor student.

MARY LOU CORY - The president of C. T. C. and a help to the Spotlight, Mary Lou is also a member of the Honor Society.

CLARA RHODES - Harry's sister, Clara, whose chief interest is French, belongs to the Vagabond Club.

JACK PAUL and LLOYD ALTEKRUSE - Both very tall and represent the sophomore class in basketball and football.

ANNE BOEHM - Anne who is a great admirer of Central's sports, is an honor pupil and a member of C. T. C.

JAMES KOEGEL - President of the Sophs for two years, Jimmy, besides being outstanding in his studies is very good at fixing watches. (Koegel's Jewelry Store, you know)

PAUL REAM - A great deal of Paul's time is spent in practicing for football; although during his spare time he writes for both the Spotlight and Caldron. Paul is sophomore secretary-treasure.

ELIZABETH LANIER - Ibby, a member of the social council, of the Art Club, Booster Club, Vagabond Club and the Spotlight staff, finds time somewhere to keep on the honor roll.

JANE BASH - Jane has been elected not only to the vice-presidency of her class but to the student council of her room for two years. She is a member of the Spotlight and Art Club, as well as of the Caldron Staff

EDITH REUSCH - Another social council member. Although Edith does not go out for extra-curricular work, she is well known and liked by everyone.

KARL PAPPERT - An ardent admirer of basketball and girls, Karl is also a social council member.

Row 1 - Marietta Enderle, Herschel O'Shaugnessy
Row 2 William Spackmen, Thelma Springer, Anne Tucker
Marion Cabler, Robert Reese

Freshman Chronicle

The class of 1938 have interested themselves through the year of '35 in Central High School with the school activities. The most enjoyable was the Freshman party in November at which each one became acquainted with his classmates. Dancing and various games provided the entertainment, and refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

At the election of officers Herschel O'Shaugnessey was elected president, Marietta Enderle, vice-president, and Thelma Springer, secretary. The social council includes Marion Cabler, Anne Tucker, Robert Reese, Helen Hoffman and William Spackmen. The advisers of the class this year are Miss Ingham and Mr. Dornte.

Now Come the Freshmen

Marian Cabler is an honor student, a reporter on the Spotlight, and also goes out for various activities. She is on the freshman social council.

Our famous freshmen poet is Sue Beers. Her favorite subject is French.

Although Jane Meyer is very small, she's an artist and belongs to Vagabond Club and C.T.C.

Burton Bolyard is quite a musician and plays in our orchestra.

Robert Ridpath looks as though he might take after his brother Ray and become one of our cheer leaders.

Mary Farrell is another one of Central's students who make all A's, and between her studying she finds time to belong to many of Central's clubs.

Dick Means has a lot of ambition-he wants to be an electrician.

Margaret Ann Tucker is on the social council and she's as popular as the other Tuckers.

Louis Bosell is our future varsity basket-ball player.

ART CLUB

The Art Club or Brush and Pencil Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Zent, has as its purpose the stimulation of a greater interest and a broader knowledge of art. All pupils interested in art are eligible for membership.

Meetings are held once a month and very interesting programs are provided. Refreshments are served at the end of each meeting. Some of the interesting talks given were by Father Chapman, who spoke on Rome, Miss Welch, who spoke on Brown County, Anita Scheuman, who talked on Mexico, and John Mileff, who spoke on Athens.

The annual valentine tea dance given by the club has become a tradition at Central.

Members also have an annual Art Club picnic in one of the city parks. Scenery for the operetta and decorations for many of the dances are done by the art students.

Officers of the Art Club are Joe Autenrieth, president; Dick Chelf, vice-president; William Cron, secretary; and Elmer Keirns, treasurer. Gertrude Leiser is social chairman.

Quill & Scroll

A local chapter of Quill and Scroll, inter-national honorary journalistic society was introduced in Central in 1929. The society gives recognition to out standing journalists. Seniors eligible must be in the upper third of the senior class scholastically and have done distinctive journalistic work either on the Spotlight, weekly school paper, or Caldron, annual year book, for two or three years. Qualifications for Juniors are the same with the addition of a local requirment of an A average in grades.

The Quill and Scroll gives a skit in the annual Senior Caldron Vod-vil.

Members meet socially every two weeks at each others homes and at the home of Miss Austin, adviser' Officers of the Quill and Scroll are Mary Aldred, president, Wennie Mertz vice president and Virginia Coverdale, secretary. Other members are Helen Palmer, Pauline Gemmer, Charlotte Uebelhoer, Catherine Yarnelle, Blair Hattersley, Ward Beers and Ed Stumpf.

Booster Club

Central's Booster Club is composed of representatives, one from each club and organization in school. Miss Brigham, French teacher, is the sponsor of the club. Officers are: Tom Miller, chairman, Catherine Yarnelle, secretary.

Members are usually called the busy Boosters in accordance with the many activities in which they participate. The Boosters sell refreshments of a great variety at the basketball and football games. They also sell novelties in the halls. The gymnasium and football stadium are always decorated by the club before games.

The Booster Club has charge of the Tiger Mixer, given in honor of the football players, Charlotte Uebelhoer acting as chairman for the Mixer which was held in the girl's gymnasium in November, and the Tiger Hop in honor of the basketball players. Winifred Mertz acted as chairman for the Hop, which was held in the boy's gymnasium in April. An annual Booster Club Tea Dance finished the dances of which the Booster Club has charge.

This club is often called on to take part in various pep sessions and always has charge of the Valentine pep session, Virginia Bash acting as chairman this year.

Two outstanding even s for Boosters only are the annual Booster banquet held this year at the Catholic Community Center, and the Booster picnic held at Helen Doswell's cottage at Lake Wawasee.

Central Triangle Club

C.T.C. is composed of freshman and sophomore girls under the direction of Miss Ruth Brown and Miss Leah Austin. It is a high school Girl Reserve Club and a branch of the Y.W.C.A. The officers of C.T.C., Anne Boehme, president; Helen Mertz, vice-president; Marjorie Miller, secretary; and Thelma Springer, treasurer; are members of the Inter-Club Council of the Y.W.C.A.

Meetings are held twice a month, and the varied activities of these meetings tend toward the general all-around developement of each girl. Discussions are held and service and social projects are carried out. Baskets of food are prepared and clothing is made for distribution at Christmas, Thanksgiving, and Easter.

The club held an annual Christmas party as well as a picnic in the spring. A Mother's Day Tea was given for the mothers of the members in the spring of the year. The girls of the C. T. C., with candy made at home, again sponsored the now traditional candy sale after the operetta.

Sorosis

Sorosis, the only literary club of its kind in school, means sisterhood. It has as its aim the enjoyment and appreciation of literature not read in school.

Sorosis consists of girls from 10A up who have an averages of B scholastically. For their programs they have speakers and the girls discuss books, one act plays and poetry. Anita Scheumann spoke this year of her trip to Mexico. Sorosis always gives the Memorial Day Program in the auditorium, one of the girls acting as chairman. A speaker is presented.

Miss Welch is the adviser and officers for the first semester were : president, Ruth Phinney; vice - president, Sara Ochstein; secretary, Ruth Huxoll; and treasurer, Helen Phinney. Officers for the second semester were : president, Mildred Korte; vice - president, Ruth Phinney; secretary, Claire Leipold; and treasurer, Ruth Huxall.

Friendship Club

Combining service work with social activity, the Friendship Club under the sponsorship of Miss Vera Pence provided for its members a well rounded program during the 1934-35 season.

In its list of service projects were the annual hemming of tea-towels for the Needle Work Guild round-up, the preparation of Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for needy Fort Wayne families, and the filling of hand-made Easter baskets for distribution to children at Easter time.

In its close affiliation with the Y. W. C. A., of which it is a high school branch, members of Friendship took part in a hard-times party given jointly by the Girl Reserves and Hi-Y boys of the city, as well as in a Christmas pageant "The Hanging of the Greens," and the series of Forums presented during the winter and early spring. Nor were its activities strictly local; a World Fellowship Project sent books to a small mining town.

A weiner bake, Valentine and Christmas parties, the Gobbler's Hop tea dance and the corresponding with "Secret Service" pals all carried out that part of the club's purpose "to create a friendly spirit among high school girls."

Math Club

Founded Dec. 4, 1913, by D. W. Werremeyer, the Math Club is the oldest high school club in Fort Wayne. The purpose of the club being three fold is: (1.) To develop an appreciation of the field of mathematics; (2.) To investigate certain interesting phases of mathematics which do not find a place in the class room; and (3.) To afford an opportunity for social contact of teachers, and students of mathematics.

Meetings are held monthly on Friday night. Entertaining programs are provided and refreshments are served. Among the speakers for this year and their topics of discussion were: Miss Gardner - "Higher Plane Curves", Mr. Veatch - "Mathematics of Radio", Mr. Reising - "The Third Papyrus", Mr. Turpin- "Paper Money", and Mr. Byron Case - "Our Expanding Universe."

The year's meetings were brought to a close with the annual picnic at Foster Park, on May 7. This was closely followed by a sucessful tea dance with clever mathematical tags and decorations.

Math Club advisers are Miss Mary Gardner, Miss Marie Christman, and Mr. Charles Turpin.

Vagabond Club

Miss Mary Catherine Smeltzly, history teacher, organized the Vagabond Club in 1932. It has as its purpose the enjoyment of the history, customs, legends, and pictures of different countries. The club meets the third Wednesday of every month and interesting programs are given.

For programs the following were used: Sept. 19, a trip to the Lincoln Museum; Sept. 28, a tea dance in the girl's gym; for Oct. 17, a talk on Italy by Miss Reed; Nov. 21, a talk on A New England Thanksgiving Dinner by the Rev. Charles Houser; Dec. 19, a talk on a german christmas party by Mr. Stroebel; Jan. 16, election of officers; Feb. 20, Washington, the Traveler by members of the club; March 20, a talk on South America by Miss Mary Catherine Smeltzly; April 17, pictures of Mexico, by Mr. Oscar Braungart; May 15, "The American Legion" by Lieut. Eugene Wells and music by the Harmonica Band; June 5, election of officers and the annual picnic held at Historical Museum in Swinney Park.

The Vagabond Club sponsored the Columbus Day Program at which Mr. Allen Lamont spoke and the Girl's Glee Club sang, and a skating party held during the first term at Bell's Skating Rink.

Members have foreign correspondents, letters from whom have been received from Poland and Finland.

Mr. and Mrs. Croninger are honorary members of the Vagabond Club and officers for the first term were: president, John Laymon; vice-president, Gertrude Leiser; secretary, John Broom, treasurer, Margaret Minsel. For the second term officers were: president, Betty Jean Nieman; vice-president, Kenneth Smith; secretary, Maxine Detamore; treasurer, Ed Dole.

Hi-Y

The Hi-Y was organized in 1919 by Mr. Bronson and Mr. Veal of the Y. M. C. A. and by Mr. Croninger. It is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and the meetings are held there every Monday night at 7:30 P.M.

Programs are presented to the group at each meeting. Mr. Bob Nulf, coach of North Side gave a talk on "Sports" at one of the meetings. "Vocational Guidance" was another topic discussed at another of the gatherings.

A weiner bake was held on May 20 in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. Each member was allowed to bring a guest.

The Hi-Y is the sponsor of the Silver Trophy cup presented to any senior boy for outstanding social science work. This cup is presented at the annual Recognition Day service. Leland Maxwell was the receiver of the cup last year for his fine work on a thesis. This cup is presented by the president of Hi-Y.

Mr. Amrhein was the adviser at the Y. M. C. A., while Mr. Richardson was the adviser from Central. Officers were: president, Donald Eme; vice-president, Harry Rhodes; secretary, Edwin Slagle; treasurer, Charles Mackres; and chaplain, Orland Foltz.

Student Players

Organized drama first made its appearance in Central in the form of a club – the Student Player's Club - in 1920. Under the capable adviserships of Miss Marjorie Suter, dramatics instructor in three high schools, this club has increased from an initial membership of twenty-two to sixty to date.

Requisites for membership to the Student Players are: one satisfactorily completed semester of dramatics, participation in initiation ceremonies, informal and formal, passing grades in all subjects.

Officers for the fall semester elected at the September meeting were: Brock Cleary, president; John Broom, vice-president; and Ruth Phinney, secretary. Alfred Falk was appointed point-keeper. Important activities during October, November, & December were the one-act play, "Midsummer Night's Dream" presented to the student body October 17 and to the Teacher's convention October 18 and 19, and to the South Side Student Player's Club, The Senior Play, "Number Seventeen," and the Christmas Play, given December 21, with an admission of five cents. Mid-term initiation services were in general charge of Doris Gettys, with Joan Wolf, Betty Pollak, Bob Kaag, and Alfred Falk assisting. For this purpose the three high schools met at North Side and each school's initiates presented a program. South Side's program was declared the best, while Central's best performer was Kenneth Smith. Following this, a tea dance was held in the North Side cafeteria for the Student Players of the three high schools.

In February, Jim Curran, Helen Palmer, and Margie Bittler were elected president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer for the spring semester. The year closed with a picnic on May 23, at Anne Fuelber's.

C. G. A. A.

Beginning their activities with a weiner bake, Central Girls' Athletic Association continued through the year with a program which included a Christmas pep session, a party and a banquet.

For the weiner bake transportation to Foster Park and back to school again was furnished by a large truck. The members played tennis, volleyball, and football.

At the Christmas party Santa Claus distributed gifts, and following this, refreshments were served.

Santa Claus, white bearded and round bellied, again appeared at the pep session preceding the Central Catholic basketball game. This time he dashed in on a toy sled and distributed candy kisses with a free hand. Feminine athletes also led the yells and made up a most ridiculous band which under the direction of Mary Bodigan rendered several ghastly selections

For this performance Mr. Croninger complimented the organization at the next meeting. At that time awards were presented to sixteen girls for their athletic achievements.

An amendment to the constitution provided that a member eligible to join the club must have taken advantage of the opportunity within a term or she will become ineligible.

Latin Club

Organized in the fall of 1933, The Argonauts, monthly club of the Latin department, is one of the youngest clubs in the school. The advisers are Miss Mary Harrah, Miss Eva McKinnie, and Miss Florence Lucasse.

In order to carry out the Roman idea, the officers are given the titles of members of the Roman government. Accordingly, Mary Aldred was elected first consul or president, at the September meeting. Robert Nathan was made second consul or vice-president, and Alfred Falk quaestor-scriba. To plan the meetings the first consul chose Virginia Coverdale, who was assisted by Catherine Yarnelle, Helen Phinney, Ruth Foelber, and Ed Stumpf.

Latin games were played and Latin songs sung at the party held in the clubrooms the next month. In November several students gave "Vacuum" a play entirely in Latin -- rather odd Latin, and a humorous skit from the Aeneid, "Unfortunate Dido". An amendment to the constitution making all Latin students eligible to join the society was passed. Formerly 9B's had been excluded,

In the January election, which followed a talk by Professor Schick of Concordia College on "Winged Words",Catherine Yarnell became first consul, and Dorothy Staley quaestor scriba. Under Helen Doswell, chairman, Bob Kaag, Grover Scott, Jean Bergquist, Alfred Falk, Mary McAnlis, and Jane Myer were chosen to arrange the programs.

Honor Society

Since the time of its organization in 1928 at the behest of Miss Mary Harrah, the local Honor Society has attempted to serve as a stimulus for scholastic attainment. When, in the fall of 1934, the club faced extinction because it was felt by some that its activities were duplicated by the National Honor Society, a committee of three members, appointed for investigation, found that its abolition would mean a lessening of interest in scholarship among under classmen. Action toward discontinuation was thereupon dropped.

The Honor Society during the past year followed a policy of bringing before its members a group of interesting speakers. Dr. Charles H. Smith spoke informally on "Travel Tips" in connection with his visit abroad, and Mrs. Forest Moore displayed her collection of favorite quotations sent to her by various notables. Early in the spring term Mr. Joe Dye, advertising manager of Wolf and Dessauer's department store, outlined and explained the complete advertising layout of one of the country's largest electric refrigerator companies.

A social hour with games and refreshments completed the society's regular meetings. The final activity was the annual picnic at Foster Park in May.

Home Economics Club

Once a month there meets a group of girls who are interested in home-making as a fine art. They are the members of the Home Economics Club under the sponsorship of Miss Maple Byers, domestic science.

Their activities are bound closely with their purpose. During January and February the members pieced and stitched a quilt which was later donated to charity. At a later meeting they were conducted through the Furnas Ice Cream Company. A most interesting talk was given by Miss Betty Jean, beauty-culturist, who spoke to the mothers and daughters of the club at the annual tea. Her topic concerned the care of skin and hair.

A Christmas party at Esther Hartman's home and a spring picnic at Foster Park comprised the social activities for the year.

Euterpean Club

The Euterpean Club of Central, under the supervision of Mr. Gaston Bailhe, was organized for the purpose of being a nucleus of musical culture in the school.

Meetings are held on the last Thursday of every month and programs are presented which are prepared by the program committee. Emily Walters spoke on"Popular Music and What Part It Plays in Our Lives"at one of the meetings. The Rev. Mr. Houser spoke on "Cellos" at another meeting. Other talented people in Fort Wayne were presented to the club for programs.

Recognition services were held in honor of those recognized in musical contests.

A skating party was given March 29th at Bell's and proved to be very successful.

Officers for the first term were: president, Betty Jean Nieman; vice-president, Gertrude Leiser; secretary, Mildred Klopfenstein; and treasurer, George Powers. For the second term, Mildred Jones was president and other officers succeeded themselves in their positions

Indiana Club

The outstanding feat of the Indiana Club was the presentation of a set of five volumes of Indiana History books to the library.

Meetings are held the last Thursday of every month and interesting programs are given. The club has charge of the Indiana Day Program in the auditorium. A picnic was held in May at Franke Park to complete the activities.

Mr. Richardson is adviser for the club and the officers were: president, Ida Mae Dager; secretary, Frank Garard; and treasurer, Eva Wuckovich.

Rifle Club

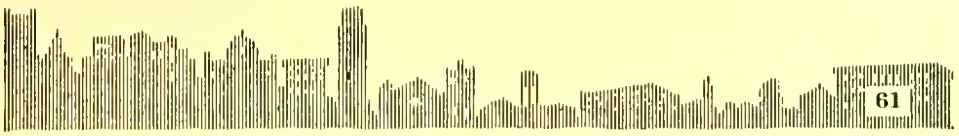
Rifle Club meetings are held monthly in Mr.Veatch's room. Discussions are held on matches, national riflemen's news and commending of good marksmenship.

Practices are usually held weekly in the boys, gymnasium.

The officers are: president, Fay Psches; executive manager, Brock Cleary and faculty adviser, Mr.Veatch.

Central Philatelic Society

The Central Philatelic Society is sponsored by Mr. Virts. The purpose of the club is to bring the stamp collectors together and to encourage and develope their hobby. It has started many boys in this interesting hobby and has been an ever increasing source of information for Central's stamp collectors. The club has taken an active part in exhibitions, having won two first prizes in 1933 and 1934, in the annual Anthony Wayne Philatelic exhibitions at the Y. M. C. A., and individual members have won honors in exhibitons and contests. The officers of the club for the first semester this year were Morton Meier, Pres.; Ray Michel, Vice Pres.; and Walter Lorenz, Sec. – Treas. For the second semester Ray Michels was elected Pres.; Robert Nathan, Vice Pres; and John Skekloff Secy - Tres. Mr. Ralph Virts is faculty adviser.



The Torch Club

The Torch Club, a branch of the Y.M.C.A., meets every Thursday night at 7:30 P.M. at the Y.M.C.A. A program is slated for each meeting. Occasional trips are taken to different industries in the city. There are twenty-five members in the club, two of whom attended the recent Hi Y Convention and brought back with them ideas and suggestions to make the club bigger and better in the future. Mr. Ashley plans an extensive drive for the members next fall.

The adviser for the club is Mr. Maurice M. Ashley. Officers for the club are: president, Ray Stumpf; vice-president, Bert DeVore; secretary, Thomas Bayless; treasurer, Richard Keifer; and program chairman, Bill Hanley.

DRAMA

Midsummer Night's Dream

As their fall play, the Student Players of Central, under the direction of Miss Suter, gave the Pyramus and Thisbe excerpt from Midsummer Night's Dream. The five performances showed that a play which delighted sixteenth century dandies can make modern audiences, pupils and teachers alike, roar with laughter. The "rude mechanicals" and their efforts to impress the Duke of Athens with their presentation of the story of the immortal lovers, Pyramus and Thisbe, are still funny.

Brock Cleary

Brock Cleary was a rib-tickling Bottom, pompous and stupid, but no less amusing was Bob Smith's Flute or his falsetto-voiced Thisbe. Leroy Pontius as Snout, the tinker who portrayed the singularly obtuse wall, drew forth many a guffaw as well as furnishing Pyramus and Thisbe the opportunity for some excellent clowning. Bill Thresh as Quince, the carpenter with his most unusal prologue, Fred Tucker as Starveling, the decrepit taylor, and Lawrence Baker as Snug, the joiner, who played "the lion's part" completed this group.

For these, the colorfully costumed courtiers furnished a perfect foil. Jim Curran capably played Thesus, Duke of Athens and Anne Wheatly was lovely as Hippolyta, Queen of the Amazons. Paul Schwehn, who took the part of Philostrate, master of ceremonies, came gallantly to the rescue to play the Duke at South Side when Jim was unable to be there because of illness. The rest of this group were: Lysander, Jack Tucker; Demetrius, George Powers; Hermia, Lillian Krotke; and Helena, Evelyn Krotke.

Those in the fairy scene were: Frank Gerard, Oberon; Dorothy Masursky, Titania; a fairy, Virginia Coverdale; and John Broom, Puck or Robin Good Fellow. John's ability to play the flute added an unusual touch to his characterization.

"Number 17"

"Number Seventeen", a mystery drama, was chosen by the seniors of 1935 to be presented on November 26, as their annual senior play. The cast as a whole gave a good performance and much credit is due to them and to Miss Marjorie Suter, director. Two performances, a matinee for students and an evening presentation, were given.

The action of the play, centering around the disappearance of a diamond necklace and the mystery of a disappearing corpse, progressed rapidly with breath-taking interest.

The settings for the play were exceptionally well worked out and the ghostly atmosphere they produced greatly enhanced the acting.

Breaking the tense atmosphere of the play, was the delightfully humorous part of an English transient, "Ben", taken by Kenneth Smith. Another bit of humor which the audience very much appreciated was the part of the stuttering Eddie Scott as played by John Broom.

The cocky detective, Gilbert Fordyce, was well represented by Jim Curran.

Others taking part in the play were Margie Bittler, Alois Derry, James Kipfer, Bob Weaver, and Joe Evans.

Public Speaking Department

The Debate Conference at Purdue University opened the 1934-35 season for Central debaters. Their achievement at this meeting was the winning of the attendance trophy. Soon after this interesting event the affirmative team vanquished the negative team of Huntington High School in the opening debate of the Northeastern District Debate Conference. In their next debate the members of the affirmative team met defeat at the hands of Elmhurst negative team. The negation of Central opened its part of the season by winning over a strong North Side team and also over Huntington Township. These debates closed the regular conference schedule with Central, Elmhurst and Columbia City tied for first place. In preparation for a debate-off among these three schools, Central engaged Huntington in a four team meet. Of these debates Central won only one.

In the first invitational debate tournament ever to be held in Fort Wayne, the three leaders of the conference debated for the championship. Central's negative squad lost to both Elmhurst and Columbia City while the affirmation defeated Elmhurst but lost to Columbia City. As a result of these debates Elmhurst won the championship. During this same tournament Central's other affirmative squad defeated La Porte but fell before a stronger Huntington team.

In preparation for the annual sectional debates Central met Wolf Lake and Angola in non-decision debates. On February 9 Central won a thrilling sectional meet. The believers of the proposition won an exciting debate from the North Side negation and then easily eliminated a weak Lancaster-Central team. The opponents of the proposition for Central won a forfeit from Ossian and then went on to give Central a clear record by downing Lafayette Central.

DISTRICT DEBATES

By the virtue of these debates Central advanced into the district elimination competing with Huntington and Columbia City. These debates were held at Columbia City on Thursday Feb. 28. Central was less fortunate in these contests. The affirmation won its first debate with Huntington easily, but the negation lost to the affirmation of Huntington. In the last round both the negative and affirmative teams lost to Columbia City, that school becoming the district champion.

The affirmative squad for the season consisted of Paul Schwehn, Maxine Brand, Hutoka Neu, LeRoy Pontius, Helen Long and Sophia Nicholas.

The members of the negation are: Max Ochstein, Bob Smith, Charles Mackres and Herman Deck.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' GLEE CLUBS

"Music Hath Charms"

Central's musical organizations forge to the front each year under the untiring efforts of their capable director, Mr. Gaston Bailhe, who has a state wide reputation among music lovers.

Five years ago Central's Band was composed of fifteen members; today it has sixty. The orchestra had fourteen members; today it has fifty five.

Mr. Bailhe, music director, purchased $1400 worth of instruments for the school, and in order to raise the money to pay for these, a series of six concerts was given throughout the year. In November the orchestra gave a concert; on December 8, the orchestra and glee clubs combined in a beautiful Christmas cantata which they later broadcast over the radio; and on January 11, the band gave another program The soloists were Marguerite Baker (violinist) Claude Reese (cornetist), Berton Bolyard (clarinetist), Chester Ostrowski (cornetist), and John Broom (flutist.)

Classes have been formed in violin, viola, cello, string bass, oboe, flute, trumpet, French horn, bass clarinet, and basson. The students who began in these classes are now far enough advanced to play in the orchestra and band.

The string trio which was organized last year consists of Ruth Seigel, pianist; Kathleen Bolyard, cellist; and Marguerite Baker, violinist. They have proved very popular in civic circles and often play for various clubs and churches.

This year Mr. Bailhe has organized several other groups; a woodwind quintet, a brass sextet, a string quartet, and a string quintet.

Another unit of the music department is the glee club and the A'Capella choir who produce the annual operetta, an established institution at Central which has always proved successful both musically and financially.

Cast for Operetta "Tune In"

"Tune In"

Despite a last minute motor accident which prevented two members from taking part, the cast of the 1935 operetta presented three very satisfactory performances of "Tune In", a modern musical laid in a radio station.

Jane Frederickson as Mitzi, the switchboard operator, took the feminine lead. Her sweetheart, Jerry, who served as advertising manager for the Kroggins Kippered Kodfish Company, was played by Bruce Hunt.

One of the chief comedy parts was that of Mrs. Kroggins, the misled wife of the Kodfish King. In this role Wilda Barr got her husband, played by Irving Latz, into the complicated mix-up which formed the plot of the piece. Because of her insistence that she be permitted to sing over the air on her husband's hour, she threatened to ruin both station and the program, for her voice was not what she thought it - far from it.

The hurried substitution of Mitzi, whose lovely soprano voice charmed the audience and sold codfish, saved the day temporarily, but broke up the romance between Joe Brown, owner of the radio station, played by Bob Smith, and the Kroggins' daughter, Jean. Because of the injuries suffered by Mildred Jones as a result of the accident, Ruth Phinney, on twelve hours notice, took this role, which was to have been the former's.

Moreover, when Mrs. Kroggins discovered the hoax, matters became so difficult that it seemed as if Joe were going to lose the station, Mitzi and Jerry were separated forever, and nothing would come out right. However, in the second act the troubles were neatly solved, the lovers were reunited, and the station saved by an unexpected legacy. Mitzi recieved a contract to sing her beautiful songs, "Just a voice on the Air", "On the Gypsy Trail", and "Who Cares?" and everyone was quite happy.

Other members of the cast were Paul Schwehn, J. Bottomley Binks; John Mileff, Dynamo Dave; Frank Gerard, Archibald Throckmorton; Jeff Mitchell, Bob; Kenneth Smith, Lysander Phipps; Tilly, Helen Phinney; Billy, Helen Rumbaugh; and Milly, Kate Hite; Emily Walters, the other girl hurt in the mishap, was to have been Tilly, third member of the sister team.

The girls' and boys' glee clubs, which acted as the choruses, were under the direction of Mr. Gaston Baihle, as was the rest of the company.

Winifred Mertz, editor first term; Helen Palmer, managing editor; Virginia Coverdale, editor second term; GertrudeSammetinger, business manager.

The Spotlight

With Mr. John R. Jones, commercial teacher, taking Miss Austin's place as its adviser, the Spotlight began the school year of 1934--35 under the editorship of Winifred Mertz. Other members of the major staff were Virginia Coverdale, managing editor; and Helen Palmer, desk-editor.

The business staff, led by Gertrude Sammetinger, business manager and Margie Bittler, advertising manager, did their work so well that the Spotlight workers celebrated the occasion of the South Side-Central football game by putting out eight pages --a glorious feat at a glorious moment.

Virginia Coverdale, editor, headed the staff the second term.

The Caldron

Feeling that a total subscription of a few over three - hundred books in a school of seventeen - hundred enrollment did not serve the purpose of a yearbook, the Caldron staff this year made a drastic cut of fifty per cent in the price of the annual, with a result of over a hundred more subscriptions.

The cut naturally entailed strict budgeting and the printing of the Caldron in the Central High School Printshop under the supervision of W. W. White, Caldron adviser. Rupert Fousnought and the advanced student printers, as well as other members of printing classes, made possible the technical end of the book's publication.

Mary Aldred and Ed Stumpf, editor and associate editor, respectively, directed the editorial staff in preparing the thousands of words of copy which go to make up a yearbook. The Caldron's finances were supervised by Blair Hattersley, business manager. Catherine Yarnelle and Harold Sams, senior editors, Virginia Bash and Pauline Gemmer, club and organization editors, and Betty Pollak and Tom Miller, sports editors comprised the other members of the major staff.

"Fragmenta"

The front page of the first issue of the Fragmenta this year went journalistic and became the "Trojan Tribune,"a newspaper of 1184 B.C.

The lead story was a special scoop reporting the discovery of the wooden horse left by the departing Greeks, while the second lead was a detailed description of the marriage of Prince Coroebus and Princess Cassandra.These two stories were written by Blair Hattersley and Isabelle Screeton, members of the 12B Vergil class which compiled the front page. A story on the tragic death of Laocoon,another on the gala celebration in honor of the horse, and an inquiring reporter's questions and answers completed the text of the front page.Dale Chaney,Grover Scott and Mary Aldred,contributed these. Virginia Coverdale supervised the makeup.

The French Department contributed a page with articles,"The Delights of French"by Virginia Coverdale, telling of the villainies of French irregular verbs,"Program In a French School" and "La Nuit Des Mortes. "

A column "Bavardage" by Helen Palmer, related intimate facts concerning members of French classes.

The German section contained, among other things, an article by John Laymon describing a German Christmas, a letter in German to Santa Claus, by Dorothy Miller, and a description, also in German, of Fort Wayne, by Marguerite Baker. Jokes in the three tongues added a note of levity to the paper.

Helen Doswell edited the Latin section, Ruth Foelber the German, and Cecelia Bolson, the French. Miss Florence J. Lucasse was faculty adviser.

The second issue under the same editors was put out in the latter part of May.

Athletics

Girls Sports

Central's gymnasium classes for girls offer many interesting and varied activities during their program for the year. The types of gymnasium work offered are such that every participant can excel in at least one activity. For those who have too full a program of daily school work but who want a small amount of gym work there are after school classes. These groups take up the same activities as are carried on in the gym classes daily and are also open to anyone taking athletic work who is desirous of coming out.

In the fall volleyball is the first sport taken up. This game can be played exceedingly fast or exceedingly slow depending upon the ambition of the players at this time of year. The upper classmen games are usually fast and very interesting while the underclassmen games lag a little due to the inexperience of the players. This year a class tournament was held between the Monday, Wednesday, Friday and the Tuesday, Thursday classes. Mary Bodigan, senior, was captain of the winning team.

The next six weeks was given over to the game in which all players go home with skinned shins, broken toes, and black and blue marks in various places. This game is soccer and is the roughest of the feminine sports. It helps to develop sturdy leg muscles and was played out of doors most of the time, despite November winds.

Ever-popular is basketball, the third sport of this year in which many girls participated both in class and after school. A tournament was held at the end of six weeks practice and the sophomore first team was victorious.

Tumbling was the first activity of the second semester. Headstands, cartwheels, flips, frontovers, handstands, and forward and backward rolls are the principles involved. Pyramid building was also taught and this gave even the poorest athlete a chance to do her part in helping to build one. Folk and tap dancing were again this year an important part of the routine, for every girl is interested in some phase of dancing.

This spring baseball gave the feminine Babe Ruths and Dizzy Deans an opportunity to prove that they were "queens of the swat." However no broken windows were reported so it was considered an excellent season. Because of its popularity since last year when it was first offered, indoor tennis was again played during the last six weeks of school.

All of Central's girl athletes were presented in a spectacular exhibition on May 3rd. This yearly feature, presented by this department of Central was especially unique and had a large audience at its presentation.

A group of mermaids under the capable direction of Miss Meribah Ingham went to North Side (early in the fall and in the spring again) on Wednesdays where they swam in the spacious pool. The senior girls were taught life-saving and many of them passed tests under Mr. Ivy of North Side.

The Central Girls' Athletic Association is a large club for which all girls taking gym work may try. The meetings were held the last Wednesday in every month and a large banquet was held in the spring. All girls who participate in extra gym activities are given points by which they may enter C. G. A. A.

For 400 points large C'c were given to the following: Betty Bratt, Virginia Davis, Mildred Christman, Lucille Emerson, Mary Bodigan, Minerva Garard, Helen Huebner, Lena Kies, Sinclair Leffers, Ruth Lpper, Avinell Lipp, Mary Alice Money, Ivaloo Moots, Betty Pollak, Dorothy Stalter, Geraldine Uhl, and Loretta Winkler. Special C's with G. A. A. on them were awarded to June Herman, Eileen Hughes, Elva Jackson, Hilda Kigar, Mildred Kinsey, Mary Bodigan, Hutoka Neu, Jean Teagarten, and as is customary at the end of each year sweaters with C. G. A. A. on them were awarded to the three highest in the point record. This year Central's star girl athletes were Waneta Barter, Freida Burris, and Mary Jane Mosher.

Athletesses

Waneta Banter incumbent president of C.G.A.A., and member of Chi-Ant and K.N.P. clubs, is a good athlete and outstanding in tumbling. Her hobby is dancing and collecting words to popular songs. Waneta is a senior A and subject to serenading people so beware.

Freda Burris "Frity" to you is secretary of C.G.A.A., and a member of panadise syncapatons. "Frity" is an outstanding athlete especally in basketball, her hobby is tap dancing and playing a number on a piano.

Hilda Kiger a junior A and member of C.G.A.A., is a very good athlete and espically good in baseball, her hobby is baseball, she would like her proffession to be baseball, so Hilda's an all around baseball fan.

Mary Jane Mosher senior A, is fond of all athletics, basketball being her favorite, her hobby is chewing gum, her name is "Skip" and she is a member of C.G.A.A., and K.N.P. clubs.

Lena Kies small but mighty is an outstanding athlete, and espically good in basketball. Lena is a member of C.G.A.A., and Junior class.

Eileen Hughes senior A is very fond of athletics and is an outstanding athlete espically in basketball. Her hobby is dancing.

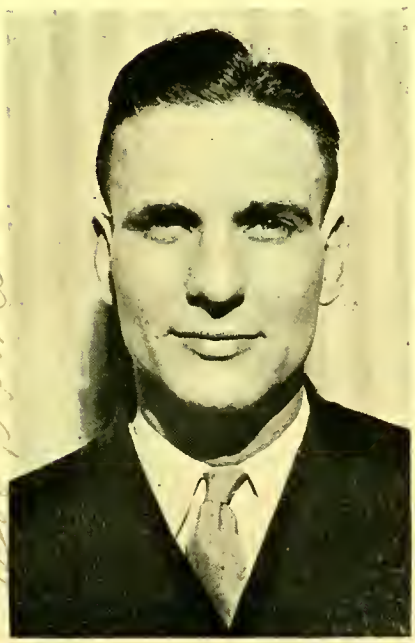
Tiger Trainers

Murray Mendenhall

Murray Mendenhall's name still remains supreme in Central's sport circles and he probably will stand as the mentor of the Central Tigers for years to come. Time has not erased the original admiration Central fans and students have had for him and he has brought the "Fighting Tigers" through a host of South Side clinches, a myriad of sectional tournaments, and innumerable track meets. Through thick and thin he has stuck to his group of youths. Central has become devoted to this tireless worker of the Blue and White.

"To him a bouquet."

"Monty"



Robert Dornte

This young man has proved himself a ready assistant to Central's head coach. He has been trained in all the departments of high school athletics, and is an able helper to Murray Mendenhall. "Bob", as he is popularly known, was himself a Central athlete and participated in both football and basketball for three years, earning a position at fullback on the All-State team of a few years ago. He is a real friend to all Central athletes, and a favorite with the Tiger youths.

Football

Captain - Art Smith

Central's 1934 football season proved to be very successful. The Tiger coaches, Murray Mendenhall and Bob Dornte, combined a smooth, fast eleven from a source of good gridiron material and succeeded in bringing the season to a victorious termination. Although many of the previous season's gridiron stars left Central via the graduation route, the Tigers built up a strong squad around the few remaining nuclei.

The Tigers sent the season off to a victorious start by trouncing the Columbia City Eagles 21 to 0 at the North Side athletic field. The Blue started out strong, Warfield and Charlton pushing over touchdowns in the first quarter to give the Blue an early lead at 14 to 0 by the end of the first half. The Eagles were repeatedly puzzled by the efficient system of play presented by the Tigers throughout the first half, but they steadied down their defense and the Blue found the going a bit tougher during the third and fourth quarters. Central succeeded in pushing over another 6 point marker in the third period when Ervin plunged over from the one yard line. Central converted all their extra point trys to give them a 21 to 0 victory.

Richard Warfield, Alex Krajewski, Harry Rhodes, Jim McDonald, Steve Sitko.

The Tigers' next foes were the strong Elkhart Blue Blazers. On Friday evening, September 21, the Central eleven journeyed to Elkhart and succeeded in bringing home a 13 to 6 win. The stellar backfield work of Dick Warfield coupled with the Tigers methodical system of play gave the Blue their victory. Warfield punched over one of Central's two touchdowns and Ervin the second.

The first city series engagement was played when Central encountered a strong Central Catholic team, September 29 at the northern athletic field. Both teams presented a real battle throughout each of the four quarters, but neither could punch over any markers and the contest ended in a scoreless deadlock.

The first half the game was a see-saw affair, both teams having possession of the ball near mid-field many times. Central Catholic passed up an excellent opportunity to score when they reached the Blue's eight yard line, after blocking a Central punt late in the third quarter. However the Irish fumbled on third down after two unsuccessful attempts to penetrate the Blues' strong stonewall. The game continued with no score being made, although both elevens opened up with strong passing attacks as the fourth period got under way. Harry Rhodes was injured in the final period when he received a slight concussion and sprained his wrist.

Central ran into a tough squad of Yellow Jackets from Decatur on October 6 at the Decatur High School stadium, fighting into their second scoreless tie of the season. The Tigers were given three chances to score throughout the game but two fumbles and a 15-yard penalty cost the Blue a victory. Although Decatur did not make any dangerous bids to score they played heads up defensive ball and held the strong Central running attack well in check.

Lloyd Altekruse "37"

The season's first gridiron defeat was handed the Tigers on October 13 when North Side ran up a one point victory, 7 to 6, at the northern athletic field. Forest Cronkhite starred for the Redskins when he broke away on a long run in the second quarter. Gerald Lutz converted the try for extra point by a place-kick, which gave the Red a 7 to 0 advantage at halftime. Bob Stubbs tallied for the Blue late in the fourth quarter when he plunged over from the one yard stripe after a long march down the field by the Tigers. A line plunge by Stubbs for the conversion fell short by a scant six inches, but this six inches spelled defeat for the Blue, for they were unable to punch over another touchdown to pull the game from the fire.

Central's reserves got into action at Portland and succeeded in handing the Panthers an 8 to 0 defeat, scoring a touchdown and a safety. Jesse Givens scored the 6 point marker on a trip around end for a 30-yard run for the touchdown. The Tigers were given other opportunities for touchdown but fumbles and penalties usually set the Blue back. Lyle Reed, reserve end, was responsible for the two point safety when he tackled a Panther behind the goal line.

The Tigers' second and last defeat of the season came when the Blue met Wabash on October 26 at Wabash. The Tigers' opponents presented a complicated but efficient system of play that was baffling, and ran up a 13 to 0 lead in the first half before the Central machine began to function properly. However the Blue did not score in the third period and pushed but one touchdown over in the final period. Gene Seals kicked the extra point from placement following Warfield's touchdown to bring the score to 13-7 as the gun sounded.

Auburn fell before the Tigers in Central's next game played at the North Side stadium by a 12 0 score. Auburn possessed a weak defense and the Tiger's second and third string elevens had little trouble piercing it. Charlton and Ervin each crossed the goal for touchdowns in the first half to give the Tigers their victory. Auburn did not seriously threaten to score at any point during the game.

Central journeyed to Lima, Ohio, on November 3 to meet Central of Lima. The Tigers came home with a 6 to 0 victory after a hard game. The Buckeyes pressed the Blue all the way but a touchdown by Bob Larimer in the second period gave the Tigers a lead that was not overcome.

Central's most glorious victory of the year turned up when the Mendenhall men met the South Side Archers at North Side on November 10. Although the Tigers fell short of the city grid title by a small percentage, they succeeded in handing the city champs a 19 to 0 setback.

Dan Bourne

The Blue controlled the game practically all the time, the Green never getting a good glimpse of the Tigers' goal line. Bob Stubbs, led the Blue's attack by scoring two touchdowns, one in the second quarter and one in the third. Stubbs' first score came when he sliced off tackle for the remaining yardage, after Charlton had placed the ball on the 18-yard line with a 35-yard run.

In the opening minutes of the third period the Tigers continued the havoc they had started. Stubbs took the ball on the first play and galloped 60 yards before a Green tackler brought him down. However, on the next play the Tiger fullback carried the ball and sped 17 yards for a touchdown to give the Blue a 13 to 0 lead going into the final quarter. The Tigers' final score came in this last period when Charlton raced 13 yards around end for a six point marker.

This victory over the South Side Archers was enough in itself to make the season successful.

Jack Crance, Student Manager, Lyle Reed, Howard Rittenhouse, Louis Sitko, Paul Schwehn.

About the Cagers

Rated by some sports writers as a "dark horse" of the State Tournament, the Central High School quintet entered the first set of eliminations only to be defeated by some trick of fate. The twelve players who comprise the team deserve no less credit for being defeated.

Lyle Neat was elected captain of the team and also was awarded the King trophy, a much desired emblem of good sportsmanship. Neat set a new city record for scoring in his junior year and placed third this, his last, year.

Dick Warfield, rated with Neat as "the field goal twins," is a football, basketball, and track star. He was high scorer in the city in basketball with a total of 145 points for the season.

Bob Altekruse, playing varsity center for the second and last year, was an exceedingly valuable man despite his inability to score. He got the tip from any opposing center more than his share of the time and kept his man practically scoreless.

Ed Barker came from Leo to Central for his senior year in order to play basketball on a "big time" team. Ed played a good percentage of the games and proved to excel particularly on one-hand shots under the basket.

Another Tiger who saw his last game of high school basketball this year is Bob McKee. For two years Bob played on the reserves and started out this season in that capacity.

Howard Shockey, like McKee, started out his senior year as a reserve but was soon moved up to the varsity. As members of the varsity neither McKee nor Shockey saw much action but when they did get in the games they gave all they had as any Centralite would do.

Steve Sitko, who will be back for one more year, played in every game and ended the season with way over a hundred points to his credit. Steve handled the ball very nicely and was able to outsmart almost any guard.

Fred Kabisch, another junior, started this season on the reserves, but one night "Mendy" tried him "on a hunch" and ever since Fred has been used quite regularly, being a good shot and a nice floor worker. The coaches are expecting big things of Fred next year.

Virgil Riddle is only a sophomore but he has been on the varsity for two years. Virg plays center and can make it "tough" for any man on the court. For two years to come he will be counted on to hold down the center position and won't fail.

Another sophomore who has been playing varsity for two years is Jack Paul. Jack was always used when the team had fallen into a scoring slump. At times like these he could usually drop in a couple of baskets and pull the team up the running again.

Tony Staniszewski is rather small but was too good to keep off the first team. He played some very nice ball, being a fast, tricky player who could always be counted on for several points.

Dan Bourne played nearly the entire season on the reserves, but when he was inserted in the first string lineup, he proved that Central will not be without at least one excellent player next year, and with the four sophomores that are already playing varsity ball material for the next two years on the hardwood court are cared for.

It Was Like This

Central's fighting Tigers emerged from the 1934-1935 basketball season with a total of 22 victories out of 27 games, including the 21 regular season games, two games in the invitational tournament, and four games in the Sectional Tournament.

The Tigers were recognized as the best quintet turned out by Coach Murray Mendenhall for many years, but, like any team, they had their ups and down as well as tough breaks.

Setting the season off to a good start, the Tigers journeyed to Newcastle on November 23 only to return the next day with a well deserved victory, 31-27, to mark down on the records.

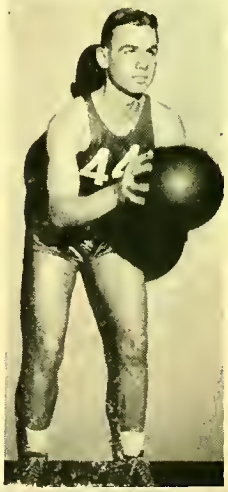
The second team had the privilege of playing the only over-time contest of the season when they tackled the Portland Panthers at Portland on December 1. It required one three-minute overtime period to give the Blue the edge at 33 to 31.

North Side's Redskins were Central's next victims, but they were a bit unwilling to admit defeat until the final gun at which time the score stood at 30-26. The Tigers were greatly favored to capture this contest from a new, inexperienced quintet from the northern school, but, this being the first battle in the City Series. the Redskins fought with a determined spirit that lacked only experience.

Connecting only three times from the field, Kendallville's red jerseyed Comets fell far short of threatening the Blue snipers on Saturday, December 8, at the losers' gymnasium, the score being 38-17.

The next week-end had a very close battle in store for the Tigers when they tackled the Columbia City Eagles on the latter's court and barely squeezed out a 27-26 win. However, on the following evening the Railroaders from Garrett visited the Tigers' lair and were easily defeated by the score of 26-10.

Central's seventh victim was to be the Irish from



Lyle Neat

Bob Altekruse, Steve Sitko, Fred Kabisch, Bob McKee, Tony Staniszewski

Central Catholic, but by some trick of fate the Barrettmen turned the tables on the Tigers and tossed in the winning basket, making the score 18-17, with less than thirty seconds to play. This defeat would have cost the Tigers the City Basketball Championship if the North Side Redskins had not badly upset the Irish, who had not lost a single game up to that time.

CENTRAL WINS TOURNEY

During the Christmas holidays Central acted as host to Valparaiso, North Side, and Decatur in an invitational tourney which was held at the North Side gymnasium. Lots were drawn an hour before the afternoon games; Central drawing the Decatur Yellow Jackets and the Redskins drawing Valparaiso. The Tigers defeated the Yellow Jackets, 29-26, advancing to the finals with Valporaiso, who had beaten the Redskins in their afternoon tilt. North Side turned right around to defeat Decatur in the consolation game, played as a preliminary to the finals. The Blue again winning, 32-30, another feather to its hat by winning the tourney.

Auburn's Red Devils also found the Tigers too much to handle and returned with a humiliating defeat to the tune of 42 to 21. Central, by virtue of the win over Auburn, was in the lead for the N. E. I. C. crown with four victories as compared with three for South Side, who ranked second.

The next evening, January 5, Winamac entertained the raging Tiger and had no better luck at taming it than did Auburn. The Blue returned with a 25-13 victory to add to the ever increasing victory list which now totaled ten as compared to one in the opposite column.

Hartford City was the next to fall under the crushing paw of the Tiger. The Airdales entertaining them on January 11, held the visitors to a seven point advantage, 41-34.

The next day Winchester and Warsaw split the team for a co-operated attack on the rapidly rising team from Fort Wayne, the former attacking the Blue's second five and the latter luring the first string to distruction at Warsaw. The second five subdued the boys from Winchester in a close and exciting battle which was not decided until the gun sounded with the score standing at 25-21. Upsetting the Tigers for the second time in as many years, the Warsaw quintet completely mastered the situation and sent the Blue down to defeat by the score of 34 to 23.

Speed and accurate shooting by the Tigers spelled defeat for their traditional rivals, South Side, before an overflowing crowd at the latter's home floor on Wednesday, January 16. Both squads possessed exceptionally tight man-to-man defenses, but the fast break offense used by the Tigers rushed the Archers on their defense, weakening it somewhat. Warfield and Neat starred, both in floor play and in point gathering, scoring 14 and 10 points, respectively. This was nearly the entire scoring for the Blue, who garnered a total of 29 points as to 19 for the Green.

Bluffton, entertaining the Central Tigers at Bluffton on Friday evening, bowed to them after a nip-and-tuck battle. Steve Sitko proved to be the valuable man that time when he connected for 11 badly needed markers, bringing the score to 31 to 26.

As was customary, the Tigers got off to a slow start in the next game featuring the Huntington Vikings. Not for long did the Tigers stay in the wake, however, for Neat again starred with 18 points.

In a game in which both the City and the N. E. I. C. championship competition, was handed the Tigers by the Decatur Yellow Jackets, who were beaten by the Tigers earlier in the season. The final score was 31 to 26.

North Side's Redskins offered surprisingly little resistance in the second meeting of the two teams on February 1. Central had complete control of the game after the first quarter and doubled the score at 32 to 16 by the end of the tilt.

The Senators from Washington of East Chicago handed Central its fourth and last defeat in the regular season on February 9 when they scored a field goal with less than a minute to go and then controlled the next tip off to make the final score 31 to 29.

In a game in which both the City and the N. S. I. C. championship crowns were at stake the Tigers again romped to victory over the South Side Archers by a score of 35 to 26. Neat and Warfield also starred. as in the previous encounter between these quintets, scoring 16 and 13 points respectively. As a result of this victory Central won the City Basketball Championship and tied the Archers for the lead in the N. E. I. C. race.

On the following night Avilla, encountering the same Tiger which had not calmed down in the least, went home with a stinging 38-19 defeat. The second string played the entire game and didn't so much as threaten to give way to the visiting quintet.

As a parting blow to the 1934-35 basketball season the Central High School Tigers handed the Elkhart Blue Blazers a setback to the tune of 31 to 17 in the Central gymnasium on Friday, February 22.

Sectional Tournament

Putting up a game battle against the sometimes cruel Lady Luck, the Central Tigers lost the final game of the sectional tournament to their bitter rivals, the South Side Archers.

The Tigers entered the tournament as strong favorites, but, because the Archers, having received a "lucky break" in the drawings, played two fairly easy games while the Blue were playing three tilts, two of which were exceptionally tiring, they couldn't fulfill the predictions made.

Arcola was easily conquered by the Tigers and the second round put the Hoagland quintet on the Tigers' trail. Hoagland caused the Blue a great deal of worry during the first three quarters, holding the edge throughout those periods. "Mendy" sent in the first five, whom he had been resting for the afternoon and evening games, at the start of the second half. They immediately "pulled the game out of the fire," but at the same time tired themselves considerably. From then on the Tigers had the game under control and piled up a score of 34 to 22 on the Hoagland five.

North Side's Redskins sank several shots from past the middle of the floor in the last quarter of the semi-final game to overcome a lead of 25-19 and take the lead at 27 to 25. The Tigers gained possession of the ball and made a volley of shots at the basket without being able to connect. Neat finally sank a one hand shot from under the basket to tie the score at 27-all with less than a minute to go. On the next play Neat was fouled in the act of shooting. Stepping to the free throw line with remarkable calmness, he made his first shot count while his second was wide. The gun sounded soon after to end the most exciting battle of the tournament at 28 to 27.

In the final game the Archers took the lead at the start and never were headed by the fatigued Tigers. The Tigers, although always behind, never quit trying and displayed that indomitable Central spirit until the final gun cracked, with the score standing 36-23, cruelly shattering their dreams of representing this section of the state at Indianapolis in Indiana's premier basketball tournament.

Track

Coach Murray Mendenhall has presented, this season, a formidable track squad. The Tiger thinly clads won many notable victories in 1935, several of them overwhelming.

With the usual beginning of each meet, the 100-yard dash, Central has nearly always garnered the first five points, won by the flying feet of John Charlton, dusky Central sprint star. Charlton is a powerfully built racer, and as much of a football player as a track star. He keeps in strict training during track season and is always in good enough condition to run three or four dashes a meet. John Collias is Central's next best dash man and finds his specialty in the 220 yard event.

Another bright light of the Tiger squad is its trio of high jumpers which includes Jim Schroff, 1934 city champion; Dick Warfield, of football and basketball fame, and Virgil Riddle, tall basketball star. All three of these boys have hit close to six feet this season and are sure point getters in every meet.

Jess Givens, springy broad jumper and potential record breaker, is another sure fire point getter of the Central squad. He has leaped over mother earth for better than 20 feet quite a few times this year. He has been developing very fast this season and is one of the surest bets as yet seen to lower a city record next year.

John Garvin, the ace of Central's timber toppers, has won about 10 points a meet this season in the high and low hurdles. He will be back again next year to threaten Gene Hathaway's city marks.

Central's long distance men have also had a good season. Ben Mourning, a convert from the 440 yard dash, has won consistently. Mourning's specialty last year was the 440 yard dash, being one of the city's best middle-distance men. However, due to the loss of Les Menze, Central half-mile ace who set up a new city record last year, Mourning has been converted to the 880-yard run.

Although he has had a very inconsistent season, Chistopher Dixie, ebony Central miler, has turned in some good times this year. Dixie has lately been hard pressed to keep his varsity position by team mate Mileff. Mileff has good stride and plenty of power but doesn't run with the energy-conserving ease of Dixie.

Two heavy and powerful colored boys comprise Central's hopes in the shot put. Joe Stubbs and "Tubby" Owens, who together break any man's scales, heave the 12-pound iron ball for the Tiger squad and do a good job of it. Both boys have another year of competition and much is expected of them in the future.

Central's best pole vaulter this year is a sophomore named Dan Bourne. This boy is also a promising football and basketball player and is developing fast.

In addition to these varsity men, there are some fifty odd alternates and hopefuls. The fact that most of them are underclassmen makes a bright light on Central's track horizon.

Recognition Day

One of the most outstanding events of Central High School is Recognition Day, held annually in the school gymnasium.

There are in Central outstanding golfers and on Recognition Day they are presented with golf letters as a reward for their fine work. Then there were, last year, the boys who won the N .E. I. C. tennis championship and to these boys tennis letters were given.

A very active club in Central is the Booster Club and each year on Recognition Day awards are given for outstanding students in this club. Last year Dick Millikan was awarded $10 from the Booster Club for outstanding work. This was a special award, given for the first time.

The club that really works hard and needs much recognition is the Dramatics Club or the Student Players Club. The very best dramatics students are given gold D 's.

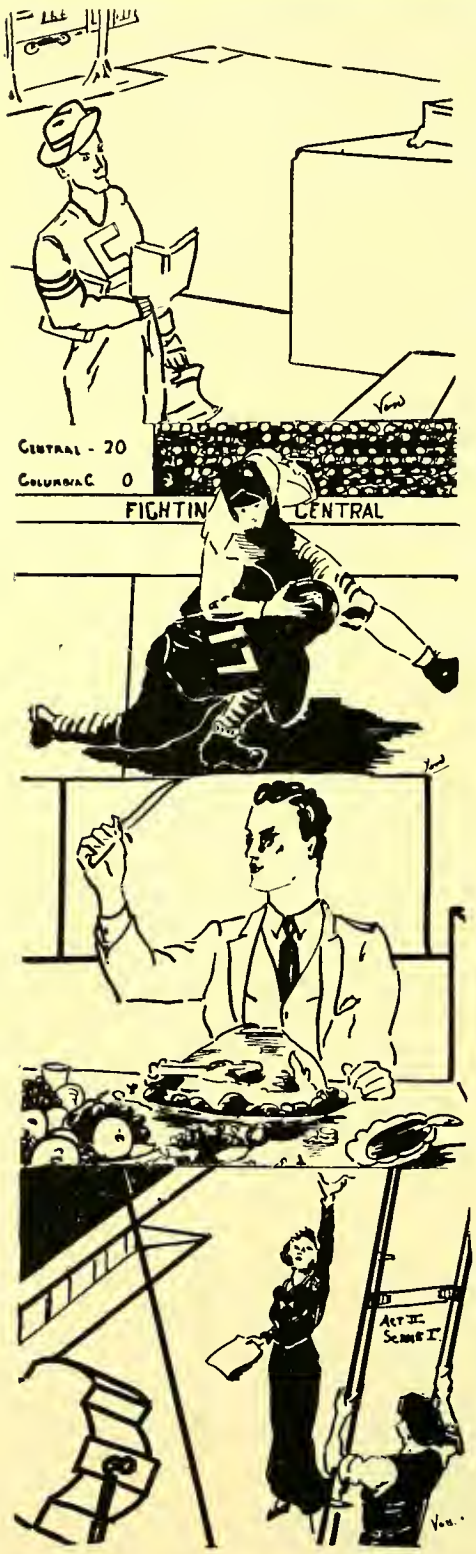
Last year a science cup, a math cup, and a trophy for creative riwting were awarded to outstanding students for their work during the semester.

The best boy and girl citizens of Central High School are given the D.A.R. awards on Recognition Day. Last year Babette Dessauer and George Mc Kay had this honor bestowed upon them.

German dictionaries are also presented to students for highest grades in German work.

At the close of this year's Recognition Day program, the Spirit of Central appeared on the floor, amid shouts and applause, and gave a very enthusiastic speech.

There are in Central High School those who go out for extra - curricular activities outside of regular school work. Last year these people assembled on the Central gym floor and there were approximately 1100 who were engaged in some activity. These activities develop leadership, initiaitve, and character traits.



September 5—Three hundred and thirty-two infants to get underfoot!

September 14—Miller succeeds McKay as chairman of the Booster Club. Now he can try to keep the penny-matchers squelched.

September 21—Uebelhoer, Palmer, Yarnelle, Stumpf, Gemmer, Miller, Hattersley and Beers will feel the paddle at Quill and Scroll initiation. Columbia City falls as football season opens.

September 28—Hurrah for Walter Byers and Herman Deck, president and vice-president of the senior class!

October 5—Ward Beers can begin to worry about the junior prom now.

October 12—Jimmy Koegel heads the class of '37 again.

October 17—Boosters munch ice cream bars through the courtesy of the Furnas Ice Cream Company. Ouch! North Side ekes out a one point victory.

October 26—Carlson proves himself the talker we thought he was and comes out on top in the Extemp Contest.

November 2—Caldron staff offers a bargain —only one dollar per copy.

November 9—Eight whole pages in the term's fattest Spotlight, honoring National Education Week.

November 16—Twenty-five hundred fans brave the cauld, cauld, blast as Bob Stubbs leads the Tigers to a 19-0 victory over South Side.

November 23—Bodies, mysterious men, and screams feature the senior play, "Number 17."

November 28—Older boys and older boys and more older boys! Food ahead. Newcastle tastes defeat.

December 7—Only 4 points, but enough to beat North Side.

December 14—The Irish have it! Herschel O'Shaughnessy heads the youngest class. Prosperity sticks its nose around the corner as 811 basketball tickets are sold.

December 21—No more will Central students be accused of making whoopee and yip-yip. Mr. Potterf leaves forever. Everybody thinking about Santy.

January 11—Oh, well, vacations must end sometime. Jinny Coverdale stoops noticeably as the weight of the Spotlight falls upon her.

January 21 — Neat and Warfield score enough between them to beat South Side. Twenty-four seniors now wear the National Honor Society pin.

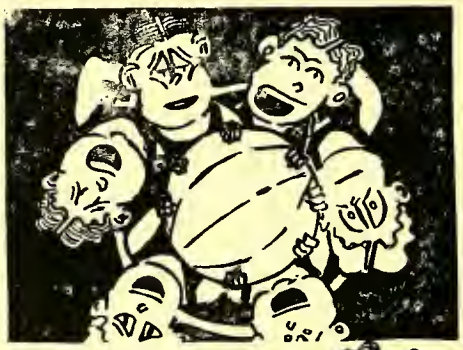
February 1—N.R.A., A.A.A., P.W.A.,—just the Alphabet Revue.

February 8—Big bows and little bows deck the persons of Centralites. Gym is a vision of loveliness as Boosters present Valentine pep-session.

February 15—Three cheers for our debaters, who took the sectional meet.

February 22—Ha, ha! That's two on South Side.

February 29—Caldron starts to press.



March 8—Oh, well, we did have the best team.

March 15—Huck Finn lives again.

March 25—Congratulations, Anderson.

April 1—Miller and Mertz chosen Best Citizens.

April 12—Twenty-eight seniors on 4-year honor roll. Coverdale and Aldred valedictorian and salutatorian.

April 19—Goody for Helen Long, who wins extemp contest.

April 26—Jane Frederickson sings her way into the operetta audience's hearts. The Phinney girls come gallantly to the rescue as Millie Jones and Emily Walters are injured.

May 3—Our musicians distinguish themselves at South Bend.

May 10—National Honor Society members banquet at the Town House! My golly, will the Caldron ever be finished?

May 17—Bea Call leads the Junior Prom, "A Fiesta in Madrid." Servi, aqua!—the Vergil banquet.

May 25—The time is drawing nigh!

June 4—Time for tears—and graduation presents.
